

STATISTICS (STAT)

STAT 243Z: Elementary Statistics I (4)

A first course in statistics focusing on the interpretation and communication of statistical concepts. Introduces exploratory data analysis, descriptive statistics, sampling methods and distributions, point and interval estimates, hypothesis tests for means and proportions, and elements of probability and correlation. Technology will be used when appropriate. 4 lecture hrs/wk

Registration-Enforced Prerequisite: MTH 105Z or higher.

Terms Typically Offered: Summer, Fall, Winter, Spring